Friends When From Under Their Leaders' Influence-Not Yet Ready For Self-Government Not Out For Presidency.

New York, Sept. 27 .- A local paper printed an interview with Admiral Dewey, in which he told of the admiration for the Olympia's men expressed by the arcabishop of Manila when on board ship one day watening the battalion drill, who, before the battle of Mantia, had declared the American sailors to be the scum of the earth. He was astonished when a sailor told him he received $80 a month. The admiral showed a picture of the rebel General Luna, whom he (the admiral) said was murdered by order of Aguinaldo, which was presented to him by the archbishop. Speaking of the rebel leaders, he said they were a queer lot, and then said in part:

"They were simply servants and stablemen and Aguinaldo was a junior clerk in the navyyard. He is a pretty smart fellow. I know him pretty well. In fact, we were great friends, and are, for the matter of fact, but he has not the brains. There are people behind him, some of them lawyers and able fellows, who make a tool of Aguinaldo. Here, by the way, is a cane which he presented to me," and the admiral pro-duced a thick black stick carved and resembling frish bog oak more than anything else

"Well," said the admiral, "we should make a pretty mess of it. General Wheeler, of course, has had some training in the polit cal school, but then he is a West Pointer. I had forgotten that. He would want to run every-thing as he would a regiment, and, of course, would make a splendid mess of it. You cannot run a government as I am not a politician. I can-not make a specch even. I wish I could, but I have to be content with my lot. Some one just then said to the admiral that his on was reported to have made a statement to the effect that his father was a dyed in the wool Republican.

The admiral laughed outright, and turning around, pointed to a piece of wood laying on the deck some yards away, at the same time saving: "My son knows as much about what my politics are as that piece of stock." The admiral would not say a word about the alleged interference of the German Admiral Diedereich at Manila.
